EXSERION Project and Block Chain Economy

---

EXSERION Project Outline

Since 2017, the virtual currency has expanded as a social investment project, and many new tokens were born. Various kinds of tokens are born, disappear, there is an environment to be born again. As most are investment projects such as corporate development funds, token purchase = investment relationship has been established. Therefore, in the EXSERION project, we aim to escape from the current purchase = investment state without adequately damaging the characteristics of the block chain system. We implement the EXSERION project concept to build an environment for personal use. It is one of means of settlement in everyday life, making opportunities to use for voting etc. while protecting individuals with tokens. In the EXSERION project, as a service for consumers,

"anytime" "anyone" "safely" "easy"

We will construct and provide an available payment support network system.

As a service for companies and individual businesses,

Provide free introduction cost of new token settlement system (token settlement system), provide new customer attraction effect and advertisement publicity.
